

Resurrection Catholic Parish

Becoming Disciples of Jesus and Stewards of God's Gifts

Third Sunday of Lent
March 22 & 23, 2025

"Sir, leave it for this year also,
and I shall cultivate the ground
around it and fertilize it;
it may bear fruit in the future."
Luke 13:8-9

Cultivating the Ground Around Us

What shapes you into who you are and who you are becoming? Births, deaths, sicknesses, graduations, falling in love, divorces, celebrating Sacraments, etc. are all major milestones that influence the direction we go in our journey through life. But we do not live only for those life-altering events; life is about the everyday, ordinary experiences which shape us over time. It is by living through our daily highs and lows that produce the abundant fruits of love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control which we share with each other.

As I reflect on my life, the loss of my grandmas, the births of my nephews and nieces, my confirmation, and accepting a teaching position at Resurrection School are all major events that shaped me significantly. But those events are not the only aspects of my life that have shaped me to be who I am. It is also the ordinary conversation after Mass with a parishioner. It is the story that I hear from the woman on the street who has nowhere to lay her head that night. It is the mentor in my life who sets the example of how to see the good and not dwell on the bad. It is the coworker who recognizes the gifts I can offer and calls them forth. It is the brilliant sunset that inspires me for the next day when I have a dark day. Simple events? Yes! But events that shaped me into the person that I have become.

In Jesus's parable of the Barren Fig Tree, the typical moral of the story most people focus on is that God is patient with us to get our lives in order and bear fruit. But my heart is recognizing another meaning of the parable, that the tree has many aspects of its life that shape it, give it life, and allow it to flourish. The gardener spreading fertilizer on the ground early in its development, the water that is needed on a regular basis to feed the root system, the sunlight that provides the Vitamin D so that the photosynthesis process can truly occur. All are needed for the tree to grow and produce fruit.

We are no different. It takes many events and many people in our lives for us to flourish into the people that God has created us to be and for our lives to bear good fruits. Events that point us toward God and help us recognize our gifts. People who accept, support, and encourage us. What are those events for you? Who are those gardeners of your life? I challenge you to open your eyes and hearts to how the ground around you is being cultivated and to accept the shaping of your life so that you may bear a great abundance of fruit.

Save Money — and the Planet — with a Clothing Swap

from the Care for Creation Committee

Is your closet overflowing, but you feel like you have nothing to wear? Buying clothes secondhand is an excellent alternative to buying them new. But if you want to fight fast fashion waste and not spend a dime, try a clothing swap! Participants in a clothing swap bring items they no longer wear and exchange them for items brought by others. It's a great opportunity to refresh your wardrobe (for free!) and reduce textile waste, while building community at the same time.

WORSHIP

Participating in the Liturgy

The Mass is the highest form of worship, where we encounter Christ through Word and Sacrament. The Church's liturgical norms guide our participation to ensure reverence and unity. But beyond rituals, the Mass is also deeply personal - it is where we bring our joys, struggles, and hopes to the Lord. Here's how to engage more fully in these sacred rites and connect them to your daily life.

Liturgy of the Word/Creed: Hearing Christ Speak in the proclamation of Sacred Scripture, Christ Himself speaks to His people (Sacrosanctum Concilium, 7, 33).

- Preparation: Read the Sunday readings in advance. Reflect on how they speak to your own life's challenges and blessings (GIRM 29-31).
- Participation: Listen as if God is speaking to you. Live out the homily message.
- Creed: Let it remind you of our shared faith worldwide.

The Universal Prayer: Interceding for the Church and World - In the Prayer of the Faithful, we exercise our baptismal priesthood by interceding for the church and the world (GIRM 69). As you respond, "Lord, hear our prayer," lift up someone or a situation in need of God's help.

The Eucharistic Prayer: Calling Upon the Holy Spirit: At the heart of the Mass, bread and wine become the Body and Blood of Christ (GIRM 78-79). As the priest invokes the Holy Spirit (GIRM 79c), ask God to transform your heart. Kneeling in reverence, consider how you can be Christ's presence this week through kindness, forgiveness, or generosity.

Active Participation: Fulfilling the Call of Vatican II - The Church calls us to fully, consciously, and actively participate in the liturgy (Sacrosanctum Concilium, 14). Understand what you receive - Christ's Body and Blood - and go forth to share Him with the world. Worship in faith, unity, and reverence, letting Sunday shape your daily life!
